

12:30 The Ones Who Remember—Second Generation Voices of the Holocaust: Authors will discuss their anthology (Rm 150)

12:45 Kids' Reading & Craft with Carol Trembath (Rm 121)

1:30 Lev Raphael – Writing Michigan Mysteries: A Love Story Lev's latest mystery is Department of Death. (Rm 120)

Emerging Writers Meetup and Mini-workshop—Join the Emerging Writers Group of the Ann Arbor District Library for a chance to meet your local writing community. Mini critiques/advice available for those who bring work with them. (Rm 105)

2:00 Becoming an Author—5th Avenue Press Panel Local authors & Press staff on becoming a published author with the press (Theater)

Block Printed Decorative Paper Make-and-Take with The Book Arts Studio. For adults and teens (Rm 121)

Poetry Workshop with Isaac Pickell (Rm 150)

2:30 Antique Book Roadshow Bring an old or curious book to be evaluated by an expert. (Tables 1, 2, and 3 in the Lobby)

2:45 Becoming an Illustrator with Illus. and comic book artist Izzy Roberts, known for their story, Into the Darkness, a tense, cautionary tale set on Navajo land. Roberts is a member of the Navajo Nation. (Rm 120)

Banned Books Book Club— Local book shop, Booksweet, brings teens and adults together to discuss frequently banned and challenged books. Today they talk about Gender Queer, by Maia Kobabe (Rm 105)

3:00 Storytime with picture book author Leah Kessler (Rm 121)

3:30 The Bookstour: A short film by Mason Engel—A road trip documentary, visiting dozens of independent book shops across the U.S. Sponsored by BINC. (Theater)

Acclaimed writer Beverly Jenkins will discuss her newest novel, To Catch a Raven, with writer Aliza Mann. This new book is part of Jenkins' Women Who Dare series, meticulously researched and divinely written historical romances. (Rm 150)

4:00 Make and Take a Zine—A craft for 4th grade and up. Zines are small booklets made of simple materials and contain text, art, or anything you can put in a book. Supplies provided. Sponsored by the Ann Arbor District Library (Rm 120)

Dance Like Darcy, Boogie Like Bridgerton—Join us for a dance Jane Austen would have adored. Mini lesson followed by English contra dances. No partner? No problem. All ages welcome—as long as they can keep up. Lady Whistledown would approve! (Patio)
